

NUTS NOTES

Vol 12 No 4 Editor: A Huxtable 78 Toynbee Road LONDON SW20 8SR Winter 1974/75

EDITORIAL

This year, for the first time, we are producing the NUTS annual entirely from our own resources. It is essential that we promote and sell the book to maximum effectiveness, and we thus ask for the help of all members in achieving this aim.

We are confident that the book will be published before the end of April and ask for your help in the following ways:

1. Please sell as many books as you can.
2. Contact local clubs in your area to interest them.
3. Try to interest local Press and radio.

The first point is perhaps the vital one. Particularly at early season meetings it is easily possible to sell 10 or 20 copies by taking them round the crowd or getting a mention on the PA system. It is vital that members, particularly those in the provinces, make every effort to sell at their local meetings, for the spectators and athletes are the obvious market for the book.

Please send your orders for UK ATHLETICS ANNUAL 1975 to Andrew Huxtable, who will arrange for your copies to be sent to you (direct from the printers if you order more than 10). By getting in early, all members ought to be able to sell 20 books each. If you find you have over-ordered, contact Andrew by telephone so that he can re-arrange distribution.

We believe that local Press and radio would be interested in the book. Try to interest them by picking out members of clubs in their areas or by fascinating "titbits" from the book - oldest, youngest, mostest, etc.

The book will be on sale at £1 and will include Records, UK All Time Top 10, 1974 lists at all age-groups and the Index. Thus for the first time all these features will appear in one book. The front cover will show Brendan Foster setting WR 3000m - so we ought to sell a few copies in Gateshead! NUTS members will be entitled to a 5% commission on any sales they make and should send proceeds from sales as soon as possible to Brian Nott.

PLEASE COMPLETE THE ORDER FORM ENCLOSED AND RETURN AS SOON AS POSSIBLE !!!

WHO'S WHO IN THE NUTS

1975 ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

MISCELLANY

§ In NUTS Notes (Vol 8 No 4), I gave a list of athletes appearing in "Current Biography" for the period 1941-69. Here is an updating of that lists:

1971 Ron Clarke 1973 Michael Killianin 1974 Bob Seagren

WHO WAS THE GREATEST? ... LET'S SETTLE IT! (or: How to stick one's neck out)
by Richard Szreter

In the winter the nut's fancy turns to the glorious deeds of the season that's gone ... an ageing nut's - like this one's - brain feverishly and nostalgically compares its "greats" with the "greats" of yesteryear ... and the mass media urge us to vote for the "Top Ten" in tiddlywinks or the sexiest thing in rounders of 1974...

Seriously though - well, fairly seriously: like most NUTS members, I suspect, I am a sucker for round figures (of all kinds), and it has occurred to me that post-war athletics has now completed exactly 30 seasons; so wouldn't it be a splendidly futile exercise to select (I did not say "agree on") the "Top Ten" in men's track and field since 1945? I mean, I, for one, feel quite firm about all of my Top Two (1. Zátopek, 2. Oerter), so if the Editor should decide to back me, I'd like to invite all members to vote for the Top Ten athletes of 1945-74 - or, if the exercise is too painful, make it "Top 30" to match the awesome length of the period.

Apart from actually coming up with the Great Idea, and prior to sticking out my neck and putting forward my choice, I would like more soberly to suggest a set of criteria - and to argue for an overtly impressionistic rather than quantitative assessment (can be subjective, too - if you'd seen the conditions under which Bob Mathias won the 1948 OG decathlon - never mind his age - as I did, well ...).

It seems to me that four yardsticks of athletics greatness may legitimately be considered: first, a man's record in major international meetings. Olympic medals (well, at this level of "competition" I suppose it has to be gold medals) to count way, way ahead of anything else, thereafter European Championships, Commonwealth Games and so forth. Secondly, a man's "record of records" - his prowess in terms of the stopwatch and the measuring tape - at this level of "competition", again, I fear it has to be world records to really count (well, split my infinitive!). These two criteria seem to me to be fairly obvious and simple. My third one is less simple: the length of period the man managed to stay at the top - say, among the top ten, or better, in the world's lists and rankings from his first to his last appearance therein (Viren looks a trifle pale here - but he's still young). Last, but certainly not least, a rather tricky one: just how far, how completely, did the man dominate his event(s) in his prime - did he smash records and rivals by large margins or only just, did he win and win and win, or just, say, W 6, L 2, D (well...) 1?

Having suggested quite boldly the above set of criteria, I feel less happy about going against my - and my fellow NUTS members' - statistical nature and suggesting that we do not tabulate and quantify! In the main, I do so for two reasons. One, that there is no "equality of opportunity" in athletics comparisons of this sort, e.g. only Europeans (give or take the odd Mongolian or Moroccan) are in a position to compete at the highly prestigious European Championship meets; some events appear to some people more "glamorous" or tougher than others; above all, perhaps, runners often compete in up to three or even four events (relays included) while field events men hardly ever in more than one. Secondly, I consider my final criterion very important indeed, and life being short, it would be a terribly time-consuming task to accumulate adequate data for this one! And, besides, I don't want you to tell me that I cannot be consistently true even to my own criteria in the lists below, do I?

So here goes: R.S.'s Top Ten "from there to eternity":

- | | |
|----------------------------|----------------------------|
| 1. Emil Zátopek (CSSR) | 6. Vladimir Kuts (USSR) |
| 2. Al Oerter (USA) | 7. Bob Beamon (USA) |
| 3. Harrison Dillard (USA) | 8. Valyeryy Brumyel (USSR) |
| 4. Abebe Bikila (Ethiopia) | 9. Bob Mathias (USA) |
| 5. Peter Snell (NZ) | 10. Józef Schmidt (Poland) |

If you think I placed Dillard too high, well, it may again be that first Olympic show I ever actually saw in '48 ... and if you think I've rather gone back to my Polish antecedents with Schmidt, remember that his WR (a "barrier" at that - 17m) stood for 8 years and might well have stood longer but for the Tartan and thin air at Mexico City. If anyone is placed too high, by a fluke almost, it's surely Beamon - but what a fluke!

Some newspapers I know which indulge in the "Top Ten" polls to keep their readers happy during the dead season, publish also, by way of consolation to other luminaries, the next ten in order of voting. I don't know about consolation, but just to anticipate, if not actually ward off, accusations of utter ignorance and cockeyed partiality, allow me to confess my nos 11-20:

- | | |
|------------------------------|--------------------------------|
| 11. Kip Keino (Kenya) | 16. Lasse Viren (Finland) |
| 12. Parry O'Brien (USA) | 17. Alain Mimoun (France) |
| 13. Herb Elliott (Australia) | 18. Viktor San'yeyev (USSR) |
| 14. Glenn Davis (USA) | 19. Ron Clarke (Australia) |
| 15. Jānis Lūsis (USSR) | 20. Mohamed Gammoudi (Tunisia) |

Yes, I thought Clarke should be there but no higher than I placed him ... and I mightn't have placed Viren so high had I not seen him take the tumble in that Munich 10,000m ... and if you think that I have some third allegiance to North Africa, just do look up your archives on Mimoun and Gammoudi. May I add here that the only thing I feel happy about at this stage is that my "Top 15" really do deserve to be the first 15, but the sequence from no. 3-15 can be played about with endlessly, I reckon. But wot - no Britons? Well, I think that Hemery easily makes my third "Ten" (alongside, for preference, and in no particular order, Mal Whitfield (USA), Bobby Morrow (USA), Bob Richards (USA), Herb McKenley (Jamaica), Adhemar F da Silva (Brazil), Lee Calhoun (USA), Valeriy Borzov (USSR) and two out of Adolfo Consolini (Italy), Ludvík Daněk (CSSR), Zdzisław Krzyszkowiak (Poland), and Gaston Roelants (Belgium)), but I see no one else to join him in these exalted regions - the value of the first 4 min mile having been grossly exaggerated at a time when its metric equivalent had been achieved by several athletes. Come to think of it, I am myself surprised to see no East Germans to consider - or are there?

And if you don't like my choice, don't just send me abusive letters - but join me in asking the Editor of this august publication to launch a "poll" and let's settle it!

✓ I am very pleased to throw open Richard's challenge to other NUTS members and look forward to receiving your entries. Perhaps a scoring system on the lines of 10, 9, 8 ... 1 could be used. Ed.✓

MISCELLANY (continued)

§ Two books of widely different genres which I've recently bought contain items of interest to track fans: the first is perhaps an unlikely choice - "Adolf Hitler: My Part in his downfall" by Spike Milligan (Penguin, 30p). There's a marvellous description of the Southern Command Sports at Bexhill-on-Sea in 1941 (?) in which one Gunner Alexander Naze (pseud?) competed in the high jump, "wearing a red hooped football jersey, elastic-waisted blue military P.T. shorts that reach just below the knee, grey army socks dangling round his ankles and white, slightly over-large plimsolls." I won't spoil your enjoyment by quoting further, but merely suggest you get hold of a copy if you haven't already read it. The other work is the fascinating new reference volume "The Shell Book of Firsts" by Patrick Robertson (Ebury Press & Michael Joseph, £3.50). This includes decent sections on the first: athletics meeting; club; inter-varsity athletics meeting; national athletics championship; indoor athletics meeting; athletics track; relay race; athlete to use the crouch start; televised athletics and women's athletics.

§ Robert Cole has very kindly offered to put up any member overnight if he (or she) is in the West Midlands for any meet at, for example, Birmingham or Cosford. You'll find his address and telephone numbers in the "Yellow Pages"!

§ Congratulations to Liz Sissons, whose upgrading to Grade I AAA Timekeeper has been confirmed by AAA General Committee. She is one of only four women AAA (Grade I) timekeepers and almost certainly the youngest!

§ For the benefit of, particularly, our newer (male) members I will again mention that NUTS ties (blue terylene with nut motif in white) are still available at 80p post free from Peter Hopkins, 22 Valerie Close, ST ALBANS, Herts. AL1 5JD.

§ Following on from the previous item, we wonder if female members would be interested in having a NUTS square in silk or tricot? If you would be prepared to purchase one please let me (Andrew Huxtable) know.

§ Most members are probably aware that the National Centre for Athletics Literature (NCAL) at the University of Birmingham was started through NUTS initiative in 1968. Among recent donations have been those of Mrs D Nelson Neal. If you have any material (books, programmes or magazines) please write, in the first instance, giving details to: John Bromhead, NCAL (Main Library), PO Box 363, University of Birmingham, BIRMINGHAM B15 2TT. Also at the University of Birmingham (transferred from Queen's University, Belfast in 1973) is the National Documentation Centre for Sport, Physical Education and Recreation. It is sponsored jointly by the University of Birmingham and the Sports Council. The Director is Alan Bell who will be pleased to deal with enquiries by letter or telephone (021-472 7410).

§ If you're interested in European track and field you'll find indispensable the 1974-75 Handbook of the EAA; it contains rules, records and results of competitions and can be obtained from: EAA, 10 rue du Faubourg-Poissonnière, 75010 Paris, FRANCE price £1.00. It contains, inter alia, lists of progressive European records (recognised by the IAAF before the formation of EAA) for seniors (men and women) and juniors (recognised only since 1964 by EAA). In connexion with latter, a very useful compilation by Alain Bouillé was produced last year extending European junior "records" back (in one event to 1912!). It may be of interest to list UK athletes appearing in the lists:
